

#13_beyond hope

Art project at the time of Covid-19

This painful global experience must leave us something.
So I thought of sharing short reflections on my work useful for the project of a better future in which to live. Because this challenge is ours. History tells us. Let's live it in the awareness of being the protagonists of the whole of humanity.

2018 - 35x21, h21cm - stainless steel mirror finished by hands and blue resin

An icon of indomitable power and strength, VrummBangBull, colored in a deep blue, turns into tension, dream and desire. Never surrendered, we fight with dignity and determination for our dreams and for the future we deserve. In the days of the restart this image, more than others, instills me with positive energy and courage, and I hope it will do it to all of us, called to reinvent ourselves and bet on our future again.
