Art project at the time of Covid-19

This painful global experience must leave us something. So I thought of sharing short reflections on my work useful for the project of a better future in which to live. Because this challenge is ours. History tells us. Let's live it in the awareness of being the protagonists of the whole of humanity.

The folds of life: scars of experience that transform us into who we are. Where the edge, physical expression of discontinuity, is the universal symbol of change, the only constant in life. Moment when the end turns into a new beginning. Painful instrument granted by nature to evolve. But we need great awareness to overcome the limits. A scream against the sky releases our life energy. Everything changed. At that moment we have grown and with us the whole of humanity. Reflected in the mirror we discover that the future is us!
