The spinning top as a metaphor for life.

Fun and attractive in its unpredictable movement. Indeterminate directions, but with a certain end. A balance constantly in question from whose energy it draws stability.

More a source of questions than answers... Absorbed by the circular movement we ask: How long will it last? Where will it go? How to make it go there? ..."

Small questions that when we grow up become absolute questions without pre-packaged answers, fundamental to the human soul to open up to spirituality and faith. To nurture the great search for our place in the world, for the meaning of our lives and the meaning of our actions.

But will it then be true that we spin like spinning tops?
