"Being artisans is a matter of passion. As children in search of identity we face new challenges every day with curiosity and courage. To achieve excellence. To leave a mark. A legacy that becomes the first family culture, then community culture, up to being the expression of an entire territory. Bimbo Faber tells this personal story that becomes universal. A piece of Italy, the CNA of Biella, which embodies the essence of Made in Italy that fascinates the world. A world looking like a child to our workers with respect and admiration. This is the symbol of a unique "Knowing how" that becomes system, something to be defended with passion in the era of global communication".
