The Beata Vergine d'Oropa is tinged with indigo blue.
Deep color, silence and calm. Metaphor of infinity and immortality, which means purification.

It's how I imagine Her when I beg Her for advice.

When poised between one and the other, I have to decide what is good to do.

As I was used to ask to my mother.

Because we from Biella are used to turn to Her for advice.

Sure to always find Her, up there in Oropa, as long as you look for Her.
